

What We Are Learning

Math

Taking a story problem and coming up with addition and subtraction problems that match. Labeling our pictures and number bonds.

Reading

This past week we talked about different ways a word can begin and end. This helps the students to break up hard long words.

Writing

We continued working on writing about our opinion. The class spent time focusing on stating their opinion and backing it up with reasons.

Social Studies

Spent time reading about different types of families and will begin writing all about our family.
